Seen & Heard Around Murray

We have reports of Parakeets living 9 and 12 years. We cannot find out from any authority just how long lived they are, but all evidence points to the fact that it is perhaps 15 years.

One caller reports her little bird died of a heart attack. Got too fat. Another died when held in front of a dog. Scared it to death.

If well taken care of apparently these little birds live to a ripe age.

Charles Barnhart of Hardin Route One writes the following:

"In 1977, a 17 year old member of the Virginia Military Academy went out for football, a game he had never played before. Within a few weeks, he had grasped everything the coach could teach him about tackle play, and he made the team. It looked as if he was on his way to eventual stardom when, in the course of training at VMI, he was stabbed by a steel bayonet."

"Rushed to a hospital, Little boy was held for his recovery. For days, he lingered between life and death, the doctor expected him to die at any moment. One evening the football coach stopped by the hospital to cheer up the dying lad. When he entered the room, he found the youth sitting propped up in bed with a pencil in his hand, drawing football diagrams on the clean white sheets."

"Before the amazed coach could say anything, the boy winked at the coach. He said to his surprised instructor, 'don't worry about me, before you know it, I'll be back in the lineup playing football again'."

"Look coach, take a peek at this diagram. It's a tricky formation and I don't think it can win." The coach sat down next to the boy's cot. They sat for a long time talking football and drawing intricate diagrams for winning football games. The coach was amazed at the boy's ability to work out the most complicated plays for football. True to his word, he got well quickly and returned to playing football and because he was so good he was voted All Southern tackle at the end of the season."

"His knack for drawing diagrams was not lost in later years; as the Chief of Staff in the United States Army, he organized the largest and finest army we ever had. He rose in rank to General of the Army, later became Secretary of State."

Give To March Of Dimes, Steely

January will mark the beginning of "a happier New Year" for countless victims of birth defects if everyone responds to the mail appeals for contributions now being sent out by the March of Dimes during its annual fund-raising campaign, a spokesman said.

March of Dimes campaign director Howard Steely stressed the importance of full community support.

"Your checks will help finance more than 100 March of Dimes Birth Defects Centers where skilled medical specialists are setting standards for treatment and rehabilitation of children born less than perfect," he said.

"Nor does our work end there. Research studies also are being conducted in many parts of the country to determine the causes of these tragedies and how they may be prevented. During the year, many of our chapters conduct public education classes in communities throughout the nation on the value of prenatal care and other aspects of birth defects prevention."

These, and other March of Dimes programs require large sums of money, Steely explained. "For the sake of our children, and their children, each of us has a stake in the success of this campaign," he said, in urging a generous response to the mail appeal.

Albert Heiss Ends His Basic Training

FT. POLK, LA. (AHTN) — Army Private Albert F. Heiss, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Heiss, Lebanon, N. J., completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training December 13 at Ft. Polk, La. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications, and firing the M-16 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

His wife, Dortha, lives at 1614 Main Street, Murray, Ky.

Variety Of Calls Answered By Murray Rescue Squad

The Murray Rescue Squad is continually handling a variety of calls despite the fact that as yet the squad does not have major equipment to make major calls. During the past week ranged from hunting a lost child to checking an overheated furnace.

On Saturday morning the squad received a call from Sheriff Fannie Stubblefield asking for help in searching for a child lost in the West Fork Clarks River bottomland. Little 13-year-old Billy Fairchild was missing from his home east of Gales in Calloway near the Graves County line.

The rescue squad emergency van and four members responded within the hour and checked out the situation. Messages by cb radio were relayed to Murray from the mobile unit by way of Squad Lieutenant Junior Thorn's home transmitter staffed by his wife Carolyn. A second and third team was also on hand to conduct the search by early afternoon. Later a resident located the frail youth in a barn just northeast of the area being searched.

At 2:56 a.m. Sunday the CD unit received a call from Mrs. J. R. McDaniel of near Lynn Grove. An overheated central heating system had filled her house with smoke. Squad members checked out the system and after finding no further danger of fire returned.

County Forester Boyce McCusick responded to two minor fire calls recently. One was an outbuilding on fire on the Novis Ezell farm on Route Six last Tuesday which threatened

Pueblo Skipper Places Much Blame On Superiors

By JACK V. FOX

CORONADO, Calif. (UPI) — The skipper of the USS Pueblo has placed a good share of the blame on his Navy superiors and the United States government for the loss of the intelligence ship to the North Koreans.

Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher, lengthy but sharp in his answers, spent a full day testifying Monday at the opening session of a five admiral court of inquiry. He pulled no punches.

The 41-year-old Bucher, a civilian attorney at his side, stated:

"He was told the risk involved in intelligence surveillance off the North Korean coast was considered 'minimal' — an estimate involving the State Department and the Joint Chiefs of Staff."

He was "not prepared" for an attack on his vessel and had not conducted such drills as "repelling boarders."

Suggestion Rejected — The chief of naval operations rejected his suggestion that a "destruct system" to destroy secret equipment be installed on the Pueblo because it would require too much time and money.

The only means to destroy electronic gear were fire axes and sledge hammers. — It would have taken two and one-half hours to scuttle the ship.

Two machine guns were installed on deck just before the Pueblo sailed but drills were called off when four-inch ice froze the tarps.

Paper shredders and an incinerator to burn classified documents were inadequate, although some top secret papers were destroyed.

Bucher, still gaunt and thin but looking all an officer in dress blues, crewcut and erect bearing, told the court that only once did he ask the Navy what might happen if his ship came under attack.

Spoke With Captain — He said he spoke with the captain on the operations staff at the Pacific Fleet Command in Pearl Harbor.

"I was told the Navy had plans to react as well as the Air Force," Bucher said.

"However, it was explained that the commitments of planes in the event of a general war were such that it was not likely that either Navy or Air Force planes could come to any assistance in time to save my ship."

The court, which has only the power to recommend further possible action, convened in the amphitheatre of a school at the naval amphibious base on this peninsula off San Diego.

About half the other 81 surviving crew members of the Pueblo were expected to follow him in testifying during a period of three weeks. Bowen and the other four admirals asked questions as well as Newsome. Classified information was carefully skirted and will be delivered into in closed sessions.

Two Inducted In January Draft Call

Keith W. Curd and Harold W. Crutcher were inducted into the United States Army in the January draft call from Calloway County, according to a release from Mrs. Gussie Adams executive secretary of Local Board No. 10 of the Selective Service.

Curd is the son of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Curd, Sr., of Hazel Route Two. He is a graduate of Calloway County High School and attended Murray State University. Prior to his induction he was employed at the Murray Division of the Tappan Company.

Crutcher was employed at Hopkinsville prior to his induction. He is a graduate of the University School and attended Murray State University. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Crutcher of Murray Route Five.

Both Curd and Crutcher were sworn into the Army at Nashville, Tenn., and have been sent to Fort Campbell for basic training.

Mrs. Adams said that nine registrants from the local board were sent for pre-induction examinations this month.

The February 17th draft call for Calloway County is four for induction and nine for physical examination, Mrs. Adams said.

Auction Bazaar Is Planned At Meeting Of Zeta Department

The Zeta Department of the Murray Women's Club will hold an auction bazaar at its regular meeting Thursday, January 23, at 7:30 p.m. at the club house.

Perfect Servants Hard to Find Even By British Aristocrats

By JOSEPH WHITT
Central Press Association
Correspondent

LONDON — Even British aristocrats have to use gimmicks to keep their servants.

"Yes," said a certain duchess, "we give parties for our butlers and chauffeurs. I arrange these with our neighbors. We have a wonderful relationship with our staff."

Said one of the guests, the housekeeper to the son of Lord Astor: "A very fine gesture, indeed."

Quite unprecedented in my experience," said the butler to Princess Alexandra.

Said the chauffeur: "Those canapés and champagne were delightful."

In the opinion of the employment agency director, Peter Hunt, the English servant problem needs a more basic solution.

"GIVING such parties—surely a democratic gesture—may be one way of getting and influencing servants," Hunt said.

"But our agency is launching a campaign to revive an old but declining feature of the British way of life—the domestic servant."

"We have been finding servants for top families for 100 years. The butler and nanny are vanishing. In the twenties there were two million domestic servants. Now there are fewer than 250,000."

"We're trying to attract young people into this work. So we educate would-be employers in 'contemporary employment attitudes'—our terms must be discreet. They are advised to be paternal."

Former Prime Minister Harold Macmillan's footman quit because he had to do the washing up. Servants are very selective about their chores. More people want to be servants, but fewer employers want to employ them.

APPARENTLY even the Duchess of Bedford—whose husband is the most publicized nobleman in England—has a servant problem.

"Do we ever have to do the dishes ourselves? Sometimes. After all, the servants do need time off. Besides, the duke is good at washing up."

Said Hunt: "There is a problem even when we do get English youngsters into domestic service. Hundreds go abroad, especially to the United States."

"We know, of course, that working in America spoils a good servant. After all, Americans offer high wages, television sets, even cars."

"What can British aristocrats offer? Life in an ancient castle. Parties with titled guests. I'm not sure this gimmick will work today."

Business Briefs

Prediction

LOS ANGELES (UPI) — Economists at the UCLA Graduate School of Business Administration predict that the nation's business will continue to expand throughout 1969 but at a slower rate than in 1968. The forecast was based on the assumption that the 10 per cent surtax on personal and corporate incomes will be extended in 1969. It also assumes there will be a de-escalation of the Vietnam war. However, the economists predict, if the surtax is removed or if the Vietnam war escalates, prices and interest rates will show a marked increase.

Smile When You Say That

NEW YORK (UPI) — Normally, if you hail someone with, "yellow belly," you're risking a punch in the eye. On Wall Street, however, you'll probably get a smile instead. According to the "Acronyms & Initialisms Dictionary," published by Gale Research Co. in Detroit, "Yellow Belly" is the accepted slang for the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Co. The term stems from the initials "YB," used to denote the company on New York State Exchange tickers.

Rubber Use Stretched

BARTLESVILLE, Okla. (UPI) — A 5 per cent increase in U.S. synthetic rubber consumption in 1969 is estimated by Phillips Petroleum Company. Total consumption will be about 1,950,000 (m) long tons, compared with 1,761,634 (m) long tons estimated for 1968. The carbon black industry is expected to increase consumption to 2.7 billion pounds, up 4.6 per cent over 1968, when 2.59 billion pounds were consumed, the rubber chemicals division said.

Detroit 2nd Bagger Claims Colts Superior To New York

By MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Writer

NEW YORK UPI — Some diehards still aren't convinced. They don't care what the score was, they still think the Baltimore Colts are a superior ball club to the world champion New York Jets.

These human Rocks of Gibraltar come in all shapes and sizes and from all different states. The neighborhood milkman, butcher and dentist all have their own ideas of what would happen the next time the Colts met the Jets. They're all pretty sure the outcome would be entirely different from the result in Miami's Super Bowl nine days ago. Dick McAluliffe is one of those still not convinced the Jets are better than the Colts. He has two strikes against him because, one, he's Detroit's second baseman and baseball players don't ordinarily concern themselves with football matters, and two, he's an avowed Colts' fan, but he's still entitled to his say.

"There's no greater feeling in the world, being an underdog and winning like the Jets did," says McAluliffe, who experienced something of the same sensation himself a little more than three months ago. "But I'm sure if they played again and kept on playing and playing, the Colts would come out on top."

"Then how did the Jets beat 'em even once?" A guy asked McAluliffe.

"Everybody has his day," laughed the second baseman. "I caught the second baseman didn't have the Jets win the seventh game of the world series?"

"We beat Bob Gibson one out of three. That doesn't prove we can beat him every time, I honestly think Gibson didn't have his best stuff when we beat him. I feel all the circumstances involved at the time benefited us. Gibson generally gets more rest between starts than he got against us. We were lucky."

"You saying the Jets were lucky?"

"I'm saying I think the Colts can do it next year. As a matter of fact I thought they had a chance to come on and still win when they grabbed that outside kick near the end but I have to take my hat off to the Jets, they held 'em."

"What did you think of Joe Namath?"

"He reminded me of Denny McLain. A lot of cockiness but plenty of coolness to go with it."

"What about Detroit next season? Not the Lions, the Tigers?"

"We have an excellent chance."

"Of what?"

"Of winning, what else? Like Doc Shula says, finishing second doesn't mean anything. That's the way all of us felt last year and I'm sure we'll feel the same this year. I don't think we should have too much trouble winning our division although we're in a tough one. We should win if we can stay clear of injuries."

"Who do you look to give you the most trouble?"

"Baltimore. Then Boston and Cleveland maybe."

"You had a pretty good year. About the only things that went wrong for you were the Colts in the Super Bowl and that run-in with Tommy John. What are your feelings now about the Tommy John episode?"

"I feel sorry about the whole thing. What can I say? I wish it had never happened. I'm sure he wishes the same thing, too."

Dick McAluliffe grew silent a moment. The subject wasn't a pleasant one.

But he perked up when the talk got back to the Tigers.

"We've got a good ball club," he said. "We may turn out to have a better one this year than we had last."

UCLA Can Win Without Alcindor

By FRED MCMAINE
UPI Sports Writer

Rival coaches got a good look Saturday night at what to expect from the UCLA basketball team next year without All-American Alcindor, gazing down their throats-trouble.

With the 7-foot-4-inch Alcindor playing only 17 minutes and contributing just eight points, the top-ranked Bruins relied heavily on a strong bench Saturday night to humble the University of Houston 100-64 in a nationally televised contest.

Sophomore Steve Patterson, the heir-apparent to Alcindor, played his longest game for UCLA and showed everyone that the Bruins have nothing to fear at the center position next season by controlling the boards and starting several fast breaks.

Junior guard John Vallely and senior guard Bill Sweek also were instrumental in the Bruins' victory with 18 and 15 points respectively, and apothecary Rowe played a fine defensive game and scored 14 points.

The remainder of the UPI top 10 who saw action Saturday also were successful. Second-ranked North Carolina beat Wake Forest 84-69, third-ranked St. John's defeated San Jose St. 64-49, fourth-ranked Davidson squeezed by VMI 66-64, sixth-ranked Kentucky topped Tennessee 69-66, seventh-ranked New Mexico State defeated Texas, El Paso 80-65, eighth-ranked St. John's clubbed West Virginia 94-82, ninth-ranked Kansas edged Kansas State 73-67 and tenth-ranked Villanova stopped VPI 70-57.

Challe Scott, Lee Dedmon and Bill Bunting combined for 68 points in pacing the Tar Heels to their 13th triumph in 14 games. Scott had 26 points, Dedmon 22 and Bunting 20 as North Carolina sent the Deacons down to their 10th loss in 15 games.

Santa Clara registered its 10th straight victory, a school record, in stopping San Jose State, 74-60. The Broncos connected on 55 per cent of their field goal attempts with junior Dennis Awtry leading the attack with 22 points.

Dave Moser sank a field goal as the gun sounded to give Davidson its margin of victory over stubborn VMI. The Keydets, only 2-10 on the season, trailed by eight points with just a minute left to play but rallied to tie the score with only 11 seconds remaining. The Wildcats then held the ball for one shot, and the buzzer sounded with Moser's shot in the air.

Dan Issel's 21 points paced Kentucky's victory, 5-8 Charlie Criss paced New Mexico State's triumph with 23 points and John Warren's 25 points sparked St. John's victory.

WORLD'S LARGEST BUBBLE BUILDING IS AT HARVARD

By FRED MCMAINE
UPI Sports Writer

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. (UPI) — There's no sign up yet but you can bet Harvard will shortly prohibit javelin throwing in its high new $300,000 track facility.

That's because an errant javelin could wipe out what Harvard officials claim is the largest "bubble building" in the world, a huge 45,000 square foot structure made of inflated, vinyl-covered nylon.

The big bubble was used officially for a track meet for the first time this week and was promptly deemed a huge success both by the participants and officials of the Ivy League school.

The bubble, which from near Starrow Drive looks like a moored, white blimp, is Harvard's answer to skyrocketing construction costs and the constantly changing needs in terms of collegiate athletic facilities.

Given to the university by the anonymous "Friends of Harvard Track," it has been under construction since last October and measures 300 feet in length, 150 feet wide and 60 feet high.

The bubble, which needs no daytime illumination, contains runways and pits for pole vaulting, high jumping and the long jump and a brightly-lit central area and a brightly-lit central area and a brightly-lit central area.

Harvard recently won permission to increase the spectator capacity to 3,000 but must find space to install the stands.

The bubble, which has its own heating and inflation system and can withstand winds up to 30 miles an hour, is scheduled for major use Feb. 7-8 during the Greater Boston track meet with finishing touches expected to be completed in the meantime.

COLOGNE, Germany (UPI) — American-born Eileen Zillmer won the West German women's figure skating championship with 2028.6 points.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UPI) — Post time for the 1969 Kentucky Derby will be one hour later than usual in order to accommodate broadcast audiences, it was announced Sunday.

Wathen Knebelcamp, president of Churchill Downs, the site of the Derby, said the race will be run as the eighth event of a nine-race card May 3. It had always previously been run as the seventh race.

At that point, then the Buckeyes outscored the Jackets 9-2 in a final surge.

Bob Seemer, who hit eight straight points in a second-half hot streak, led Tech scoring with 19 points. Dave Peterson paced the visitors' balanced attack with 16 points.

Virginia Tech, behind Chris Ellis' 26 points, took an early lead over Appalachian State and never was headed despite a 33-point performance by Allen Price.

The Bulldogs fouled Jimmy Walker, replacing Mengelt, who had fouled out 22 seconds earlier, and Walker missed both free throws. Georgia claimed the rebound and called time with six seconds to play.

Jerry Epling, a former starter relegated to reserve duty, made Georgia's final move. With time vanishing, he drove down court and fired from 25 feet out. The ball swished through the net as the buzzer sounded.

The 85-84 Georgia victory was one of four contests involving major Southeast teams Monday night. Georgia Tech scored 15th ranked Ohio State before falling 73-66. Florida State bowed to Rice 83-80 and Virginia Tech downed Appalachian State 84-74.

No major games are scheduled tonight in the Southeast. Mengelt's 17 field goals were a new Auburn record and his 37 points were one shy of the school record.

Despite Mengelt's heroics, Georgia led most of the way until its big center, 6-11 Bob Lennard, fouled out with about 6 1/2 minutes left. Lennard had 20 points, but Lanny Taylor was the Bulldogs' top scorer with 23. Epling had 12.

Georgia Tech, seeking to salvage a 4-8 season, battled Ohio State on even terms until the last three minutes, leading 64-

Morehead, Western Win In OVC

By United Press International

The three-way Ohio Valley Conference basketball race tightened Monday night when third-place Morehead hiked its conference record to 5-2 with a narrow 68-59 homecoming win over slumping East Tennessee.

The Eagles edged closer to idle Murray and Western Kentucky, co-leaders with 4-1 league marks.

Western, meanwhile, stretched its overall record to 11-6 by downing Dayton 70-65 on the road. Eastern Kentucky overcame a six-point second half deficit to defeat Tennessee Tech 87-71 in the only other game involving OVC teams.

Lamar Green and Willie Jackson tallied 16 and 14 points, respectively, for Morehead. The Eagles held a 31-26 halftime lead but fell behind by two points early in the second half.

Miss Susan Munday And Ronald Yarno Married Saturday In Church Ceremony

Miss Susan Munday, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray F. Munday, North 9th Street, Murray, was married to Ronald Yarno, son of Mrs. Lorraine Yarno of Bradley, Ill., on Saturday, January 18.

Rev. J. J. Johnston officiated at the ceremony which was held at the Bellefontaine Methodist Church, St. Louis, Mo.

The bride was lovely in her wedding dress of eggshell lace with shoes to match. She carried a bouquet of white flowers edged in white lace.

Mrs. Harry Betts of Arnold, Kan., the former Annette Parks of Murray, and Miss Lynette Lewis of St. Louis, Mo., were the attendants for the bride.

Mrs. Betts wore a blue dress with matching blue shoes, and Miss Lewis wore a green dress with matching green shoes. Both wore corsages in harmonizing colors.

Larry Yarno of Bradley, Ill., served as best man for his brother, Lyle Arends of Kankakee, Ill., was the groomsmen.

Following the ceremony a reception for the family, including the bride's parents from Murray, and close friends was held at the bride's apartment in St. Louis, Mo.

Mr. and Mrs. Yarno are now at home at 4500 Whisper Lake Court, St. Louis, Mo., where the bride is a teacher at the Riverview Gardens Central Junior High School and the groom is employed.

Several prenuptial events were given in honor of the bride in St. Louis prior to her wedding.

Bridal Couple Is Honored At Dinner

Miss Patsy Jackson and Greg Knapp whose marriage will be an event of the latter part of this month were complimented with a dinner on Sunday, January 12.

The hosts for the occasion were Mr. and Mrs. Walter Jones, Jr., at their home on North 18th Street.

For the occasion Miss Jackson wore a burgundy wool dress.

Centering the main table was a lovely artificial fruit arrangement. Twenty persons were in attendance in the hospitality.

Dear Abby

The Real Test of Love

By Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: Recently our daughter was married in an all-white church wedding which was one of the most beautiful ever held in this town. It was a dream come true. To say she looked like an "angel" is not just a mother's pride. I can't describe the joy that was in her father's heart and mine.

When the newlyweds returned from their honeymoon, they calmly told us to expect a grandchild in FIVE MONTHS! That means our daughter was a good three months pregnant when she donned her wedding gown and veil, Abby, she knew it all along. How could she have done this to us? We loved this child more than life itself.

HEARTSICK MOTHER.

DEAR HEARTSICK: The real test of love is to love our children when they need our love the most. It's easy to love them when they do everything right, and make us "proud" of their accomplishments. But when they disappoint us (as children do, occasionally) we can prove the strength of our love by showing compassion, understanding, and forgiveness. Try it. You'll have fewer regrets.

DEAR ABBY: I am 21 and my husband is 22. We get along very well but here is the problem: He has very long hair, and I mean it is practically down to his shoulders.

During the daytime he keeps it nicely combed, but at night it is all over the place and it drives me crazy. When I mention a net he gets mad. What should I do?

RUNNING OUT OF PATIENCE.

DEAR RUNNING: I agree, that man-of-yours needs a net—maybe both kinds. You'll probably run out of patience before he runs out of hair, so let him know he's not to rest to sleep with, and let him make a choice.

DEAR ABBY: I'd like to put in my two cents' worth about the woman who didn't want her husband present when she gave birth because she didn't want him to see her "naked" in front of other people. Of all the reasons she could have thought up, that is the dumbest.

In the first place she is NOT naked, and besides, she is there to have a baby, not to make a stag film. And as for your advice in this case, Abby, boo and hiss. Having a baby is a joint effort. She is not doing HER thing, she is doing THEIR thing.

Only once in history did a woman have a child alone, and that was 2,000 years ago in a stable. Sincerely,

P. N. [HOLLYWOOD]

DEAR ABBY: This is for Ruthie, who objects to getting all dolled up in her best clothes to be entertained in somebody's cellar recreation rooms:

Our cellar happens to be a lot larger than our living room, has more chairs, facilities for elbow-bending, dancing, pool playing, etc. Our friends have better taste than to wear black velvet and rhinestones to a cellar party, neither do they wear moccasins and jeans to a formal affair.

If Ruthie's cup of tea is six people looking bored and elegant in the living room, fine. She isn't being forced to come to the type of party that is our mug of suds, and nobody is going to miss her. Sincerely,

TOOTS, OLEAN, N. Y.

Everybody has a problem. What's yours? For a personal reply write to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal., 90069 and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

FOR ABBY'S BOOKLET, "HOW TO HAVE A LOVELY WEDDING," SEND $1.50 TO ABBY, BOX 69700, LOS ANGELES, CAL., 90069.

Miss Rebecca Parker Becomes Bride Of David Frizzell In Ceremony January 14

MRS. DAVID FRIZZELL

The wedding vows were pledged between Miss Rebecca Parker and David Frizzell on Tuesday, January 14, at six o'clock in the evening in the little chapel of the First United Methodist Church.

Dr. Samuel R. Dodson, Jr., minister of the church, performed the double ring ceremony in the presence of the immediate families.

White tapers in brass candleholders and arrangements of gladioli were used as decorations for the altar.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dalton Parker of Murray. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Mahlon Frizzell, also of Murray.

For the wedding the bride wore a street length gown of white wool. Her head piece was a short white veil attached to white velvet leaves. She carried a cascade bouquet of white pompons accented with white satin ribbons and streamers tied in love knots.

Mrs. Bill PPool, sister of the bride, was the matron of honor and the bride's only attendant. She chose a gown of aqua blue fashioned along lines of that of the bride's dress. Her flower girls were white carnations.

Bill PPool, brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man for Mr. Frizzell.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the PPool home on North Tenth Street.

The bride graduated from Murray High School and attended Murray State University. She is presently employed at the Bank of Murray.

Mr. Frizzell is a graduate of Murray High School. He has been attending Murray State University, but will enter the U.S. Navy on March 1. He will be stationed at Great Lakes Naval Base, and after basic training will enter Navy Electronics School.

Mr. and Mrs. Frizzell are now residing on the Benton Road, Murray.

Thompson Home Is Scene Of Meeting Paris Road Club

Mrs. Pat Thompson opened her home for the meeting of the Paris Road Homeowners Club held on Tuesday, January 14, at one o'clock in the afternoon.

The lesson on "Learning Meat Cuts, Buying Meats, and Cooking" was presented by Mrs. Lucille Hart and Mrs. J. T. Taylor.

They said meat is extremely important in developing that satisfied feeling that should follow a meal. Small amounts of fat married through the meat help give it staying power, pleasing flavor, and quality of tenderness. Slow and long cooking is a must in meats, the leaders added.

Mrs. Dewey Grogan gave the devotion on "My Wish For the New Year" with the scripture reading from Mark 11:24.

The new president, Mrs. Walter Duke, presided. She succeeds Mrs. Leroy Eldridge who has served for the past two years. Mrs. Nina Nesbitt, secretary, read the minutes and called the roll.

Mrs. Eldridge Gee gave the landscape notes on "Planting Evergreens", and Mrs. J. T. Taylor directed the recreation.

A gift was selected to be sent to Mrs. Naomi Barrett, club member, now a patient at the Murray-Calloway County Hospital.

Refreshments were served by the hostesses. Others present, not previously mentioned, were Mrs. John Gibbs, Mrs. Eva Curd, and Miss Reble Stealy.

Chapter M. P. E. O. Meets Thursday At Simmons' Home

Chapter M. P. E. O. met Thursday afternoon, January 16, at the home of Mrs. A. W. Simmons, Jr., Hazel Highway. Mrs. John C. Quertemous was assisting hostess. Mrs. George S. Hart presided in the absence of the president, Mrs. Alfred Lindsey, Jr.

The opening devotion was given by Mrs. Robert Wimmer, Paducah. She also gave to each member a typed page of inspirational prayers to live by.

In the business session routine committee reports were heard from the various chairmen. Mrs. Quertemous and Mrs. Harry Sparks, co-chairmen for the Kentucky State P.E.O. convention which will meet in Murray in April, gave detailed reports on working committees for the spring occasion.

Mrs. Maurice Christopher, social chairman, announced the joint meeting with B.L.L. for February 8. She also presented to individual members a copy of the song, "Star of P.E.O."

Program chairman, Mrs. A. H. Titworth, introduced Mrs. Henry McKenzie who reviewed an original article, "Why Do They Live?", from P.E.O. Record. In conclusion, she read a letter from a member on the occasion of the 55th anniversary of the founding of P.E.O. which is still pertinent to 1958.

The next meeting, February 1, will be in the home of Mrs. Wimmer, 2219 Harrison, Paducah. Members present other than those already named were Mesdames Hugh L. Oakley, W. J. Pitman, Paul W. Sturm, Robert Swisher, Paducah, Ralph A. Tessenier, Jr., Ralph W. Woods, and L. J. Horton.

Arra Dunn Circle Meets At Home Of Mrs. J. R. Herning

The Arra Dunn Circle of the Women's Society of Christian Service of the Hazel United Methodist Church met in the home of Mrs. J. R. Herning on Tuesday, January 14, at two o'clock in the afternoon.

Mrs. Lovess Smithman, circle chairman, presided and led in prayer.

The subject of the program was "Prayer" with excerpts from the book, "I've Got To Talk To Somebody God", discussed by Mrs. Robert Taylor, Mrs. W. S. Jones, Mrs. Claude Anderson, Mrs. H. O. Brandon, and Mrs. Ralph Edwards.

Mrs. D. N. White presented an article from the "Christian Herald" which was entitled "Who Has Time To Pray?" A discussion followed and Mrs. White read the scripture from John 12. Mrs. W. S. Jones led the closing prayer.

The gracious hostess, Mrs. Herning, assisted by Mrs. Carrie Cole, served a lovely salad course to the members present.

Mrs. Goldia Curd Presents Lesson At Pottertown Meet

Mrs. Goldia Curd presented the lesson at the meeting of the Pottertown Homemakers Club held on Wednesday, January 15, at ten-thirty o'clock in the morning at the Holiday Inn.

"Suitable Dress For Different Occasions" was the subject of the lesson given by Mrs. Curd.

Mrs. Beale Colson gave the devotion on "What Would Be My Wish for the New Year?" She read her scripture from Mark 11:24, and said one wish could be "good friends who would understand and still remain friends."

The recreation was directed by Mrs. Winnie Fluegge. Mrs. Hollie Alderdice, president, presided and others were taken for the craft lesson, luggage racks.

Lunch was served in the dining room at noon. Others present, not previously mentioned, were Mesdames Katie Overcast, B. Melugin, Fattie Overcast, Rosella Outland, Nellie Hopson, Myrtle Casey, Carrie Cole, and Blanche Larson.

Andrew Jackson was the first U.S. President to be born in a log cabin.

Backstairs at the Whitehouse

By HELEN THOMAS

WASHINGTON UPI - Backstairs at the White House:

"Morbidity, morbidity, said sensitive presidential daughter Luci

Johnson Nugent as she surveyed the packing cases inside the White House and the inaugural scaffolding outside.

"It's like a wake," she said, then hastened to add "It's all in jest. We all make morbid jokes in jest. It makes it easier."

In a telephone interview, frequently interrupted by her 19-month old son Lyn who grabbed the phone to chatter, Luci spoke with deepfelt convictions of her five years in the White House and her future in Texas.

"The White House has been my home for five years," she said.

"It has been difficult, tumultuous and traumatic at times. But it has been worth it."

"I feel I am beginning a new life but still in limbo because Pat still is away," she said.

Her husband, Airman 1C, Patrick

J. Nugent will end his tour of duty in Vietnam in mid-April.

Luci said she is "proud" of him because he turned down a promotion to sergeant because he is not going to make the military a career and he felt others in the service rated it more "to support their families," said Lu-ci.

Luci observed that Tricia Nixon, 22, is moving into the White House "at just the right age."

"I was 15 and a half," she recalled, "and I had to adjust to adolescence and to find myself."

Speaking of Tricia, Luci said

"I'm very pleased for her, especially because Julie is married to former President Dwight

D. Eisenhower's grandson David.

She's young and attractive."

"The only thing I am somewhat remorseful about is the time I spent adjusting to my new position."

Luci says dating for a single girl in the White House has problems but "the prospects also increase." Her advice to the Nixon girls is to "be like a sponge-listen and learn all you can during those precious years."

THE BUDGET DOLLAR, where it comes from and where it goes, is one of the charts accompanying President Johnson's budget message to Congress for fiscal 1970.

Bus To Jail

LONDON (UPI) - Transportation was no problem when police arrested 10 youths and three girls aboard a double-decker bus on suspicion of shoplifting. The bus driver agreed to drive the bus to the nearest police station.

Johnson has always been of a philosophic bent. Now she is more so.

She said her feelings were

"complex" when her father decided not to run for reelection.

"I wanted him to live and enjoy his grandchildren but on the other hand, I have faith in my father-as President and his political philosophy."

She also felt assurance that he was at the helm while her husband was in Vietnam, she said. "I trust his judgement," she said.

She has saved mementos, including matchbooks and the menu of the last state dinner. She will miss the Secret Service agents.

She hopes to write a book someday of her years in the White House. The happiest time, she declares, was when she got married. The saddest moment

there was, when she said goodby to Pat as he left for Vietnam.

THAT "COUNTER-INAUGURAL" PARADE moves down Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, a march that resulted in some scuffling and "missile" throwing.

Tobacco Days Planned On January 30

Kentucky Farmers Tobacco Days will be held in the Agricultural Science Center in Lexington, Kentucky, January 30 and 31st. The meeting opens with registration January 30 at 11:00 a.m. The Honorable Louis Nunn, Governor, will give the welcome address at 1:30 p.m. Other afternoon speakers and their topics are: Dr. Hugh Kiger, "The World and National Burley Tobacco Situation"; Dr. G. W. Stokes, "Tobacco and Health Research"; and speakers on production practices including growing plants, fertilization, disease control, pre-mature blooming, herbicides for weed control.

The evening program will be a banquet sponsored by Brown Williamson Tobacco Company. Pre-registration is necessary for attending the banquet. Growers of the Purchase Area planning to attend should notify W. R. Hoover, Area Extension Agent, Tobacco, Mayfield, Kentucky by January 23.

The second day of the year begins at 8:30 a.m. with a discussion of tobacco varieties, followed by engineering practices for tobacco growers including irrigation and mechanization in harvesting. At 11:00 a.m. the Honorable John Sherman Cooper, U.S. Senator, will speak on the subject "The Current and Future Tobacco Legislation and How it affects the Tobacco Industry".

The 1968 tobacco crop in Kentucky is expected to return growers over three hundred million dollars. Growers of the Jackson Purchase Counties are expected to receive about eight million dollars for their tobacco crop.

West Germany's Economic Might Has Kremlin Frankly Worried

A view of Hannover's Trade Fair. This is Bonn's industrial showcase.

By OMER ANDERSON
Central Press Association Correspondent

BOONN, West Germany—After World War II, the Germans beat their swords into sample cases, and today the results are astounding to behold.

German economic strength has become no less awesome than was German military might.

Addressing the United Nations General Assembly, Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko complained about the Bonn government's "East Policy," which Gromyko claimed was a threat to the security of the Soviet Union.

And well may the Kremlin fear West German economic strength as applied through Bonn's "East Policy." This policy seems harmless enough: Bonn is striving for friendship with all of the states of Eastern Europe.

However, the long-range implications are terrifying to the Soviet Union. Bonn's "East Policy," bluntly defined, aims at inspiring the Soviet satellites to cast aside their Marxist fetters.

Bonn's instrument, of course, is not naked military might, but its economic strength. The West Germans seek to draw the eastern European countries into the western orbit by the magnetic force of Bonn's dazzling economic affluence.

The Federal Republic is working to develop trade with the Communist states, and this trade then will become the base

How Can TV Aid Child To Develop

By DAVID NYDICK

UPI Education Specialist

How can television contribute to the development of your child? There are many valuable aspects involved in the use of television at home and at school. Is there any truth to the cry that television is adding to the problems of juvenile delinquency? How does it affect your child? There are many programs with stories of violence and crime. There are also many educational programs, human interest features and vaudeville-type entertainment.

The problems you face are typical of most aspects of bringing up children. There is a need to make decisions concerning the structure of a child's viewing habits. Complete freedom is as bad as complete interference. Depending on the child's age, he should be brought in on the decision through discussion.

You and your child should analyze his responsibilities, work out a plan which allows him sufficient time to complete his homework, club activities, exercise, and relaxation. Within this total picture, a variety of television progress can be chosen.

The educational programs are generally good. There are always special programs which are usually of particular value. Do not feel that you must limit viewing to this type of show.

The child should be allowed to watch shows just for the sake of entertainment. Remember that programs in the late evening are generally aimed at adults. Of course, you may find that there is special value on a specific occasion.

Current research shows that television does not turn the well adjusted child into a juvenile delinquent. However, studies have shown that television appears to have affected many of the juvenile delinquents.

This leads us to the conclusion that television is not the problem. The poor adjustment was present before television had any effect.

This suggests that your concern should be with the mental and physical health of your child. He will then be prepared to cope with television and the many other situations which he will face during his life.

Naturally, the schools are interested in the educational value of television. The use in education is comparatively new and is mostly experimental. There is obviously much to be learned. At the present time television is needed in several ways.

There are the special programs such as news coverage of the astronauts and the baseball world series, in different areas of the country there is actual teaching of subjects by master teachers.

There is also closed circuit television which is used to bring the talents of the specialist into many classrooms.

It does not appear that television can actually replace the teacher. The real value is in bringing enrichment to all children. With the development of worldwide television there are many more possibilities.

Your approach to the use of television in your home can be a problem or an asset. Remember that your intelligent use of this medium can supply many hours of enjoyment and a great deal of valuable knowledge.

Exhibition Of Art On Display

Mary Brodie of Owensboro will have her exhibition of weaving, jewelry, and design material pieces on display in the Fine Arts Building at Murray State University Jan. 18-30.

Miss Brodie, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Reid Brodie, Jr., of 2540 Farrier Place, is a senior majoring in art at Murray.

Short Cut

ROLLA, Mo. (UPI)—It was too difficult for Pirooz Binesh to finish high school here, so he simply enrolled in college instead. Pirooz, from Abadan, Iran, had been sent to Rolla by his family to complete his senior year in high school. His brother Bihnan was a chemical engineering student at the University of Missouri at Rolla.

But when Pirooz arrived, he found he had no place to live and that there were problems fitting him into the high school schedule. A university official suggested Pirooz take the university's entrance examination. Pirooz did, and quickly found himself a freshman, moving in to a dormitory.

This is one more incident in lives of great men which points out the fact that it is easy to give up and quit, but difficult to stay at it and come out on top.

Successful people literally refuse to stay down. They overcome challenges instead of bucking under at the first obstacle.

Whether one likes President Nixon or not, he must be admired for his persistence. He was through six years ago, defeated for president, defeated for governor of California. Anybody else would have quit, but he came back full of vim and vigor and won the presidency.

California Sprouts

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—California's 60-year-old Brussels sprouts industry produced 527 million pounds of the vegetable in 1967—92 per cent of the national total.

The value of the crop was set at $7,385,000, a 9 per cent decline from the record high one year earlier because of an average 62 cents less per hundredweight price received by growers. Marketing of Brussels sprouts continues to be largely in frozen form, with three-fourths of the California crop going into freezers.

Library Is Valuable Aid To School

By DAVID NYDICK
UPI Education Specialist

The library is one of the most important facilities in the school building. It is a valuable aid to the areas of the program.

The school librarian is as important as the library itself. Her close cooperation with the classroom teacher is often a key to many learning problems. Reading, research and study methods are closely related to library skills. These are essential to success in school.

The case of Robert Crane, a fifth-grade student, is extreme but an appropriate example of successful library techniques.

Robert was a problem student since entering kindergarten. He had poor achievement in all areas, especially in reading. He was reading on a second grade level as measured by tests and class response. His behavior presented a clue to Robert's problem. He seemed to resent questions. He usually refused to answer. He didn't seem to trust anybody. Robert's one interest seemed to be dogs. He always drew dogs in art periods. He was often seen looking at pictures of dogs in the encyclopedia and other books. He often wandered into the library, but did not read the books he took out.

In developing a plan for helping

Robert, a conference was held with the librarian. Within the class the teacher would be concerned with gaining Robert's trust and friendship. There would be particular care to fulfill every promise and to avoid embarrassing him in any way. The librarian would make the same efforts. She would not pressure him, but would carefully guide him to books on dogs which were simple to read.

Within the school year Robert gained three grade levels in reading achievement. The growth progressed in the manner. Robert first took books on dogs and looked at the pictures. He then started to read the words. Soon he began to take books on other animals. In about four months he started to move into more difficult books on adventure. This case had amazing results. It serves to show the kind of success which is possible when a good library and librarian are available.

Parents can be particularly helpful by encouraging library usage. Visit the local public library. Help the child become familiar with the layout. Show him where he can find books related to his needs and particular interests. There may be a fiction section suited to his age. The librarian will be pleased to assist you.

Try to make arrangements so that your child can get to the library regularly. Give him every opportunity to use it in connection with his homework.

Your attitude is very important. Don't attempt to pressure the child into using the library. Show interest in his work. Suggest how he can obtain more and better information. His success will do the rest.

A library program is profitable to all students from the brightest to the slowest. It is the most valuable supplementary service in the school.
